

Ground to Cloud for Supply Chain

A streamlined service for moving supply chain workflows and data to the Microsoft Cloud

Argano has changed the game on migration to cloud.

With an iterative process leaning into Microsoft Azure and BI at the outset rather than post-implementation, we help manufacturing companies move ERP and CRM data and workflows from on premises (the ground) to Azure and/or Dynamics 365 (the cloud).

No matter what solution you may be using — Microsoft AX 2012, or any other ERP or CRM — we can build a tailored data and workflow migration path that fits your business needs.

Move in phase or all at once - YOU decide

With an Argano cloud migration, it's never all or nothing. We can move specific data or workflows individually, while continuing to mirror those data sets and run those workflows on your on-premises solution (like a digital twin) ensuring a truly seamless migration.

The Argano migration method is focused on keeping your business running smoothly throughout the process, a process that includes data management and migration activities in one solution via the following steps:

- Extract data from legacy system to Azure Data Lake using Argano Data Migration Advantage
- Understand business metrics upfront
- Gather KPIs upfront using a BI accelerator

and catalog (templates for transforming/mapping and reports)

- Use Azure Data Lake as source for data migration (ID master data, cleanse/enrich/consolidate) using Argano Data Migration Advantage
- Store historical data in the Azure Data Warehouse for future reporting needs
- Add new system as a data source to Azure Data Warehouse for seamless and continuous reporting

Benefits of the Argano cloud migration approach:

- Never upgrade again (latest functionality is "always on")
- Optimize and automate infrastructure that scales with your business
- Leverage enterprise-level security embedded into every level of your platform
- Take advantage of automated pre-validated system updates and immediate security hot fixes
- Quickly gain access to all data and actionable insights
- Get seamless remote access
- Reduce operations, finance, customer service, and IT costs
- Minimize overhead costs
- Ensure GDPR and other compliance regime enforcement

Benefits:

- Data-first approach focusing on impactful activities
- Straightforward, fast integration of new applications and platforms
- Less maintenance, more predictable costs, easier access
- No need for upgrades with "always-on" functionality

We will create a ground to cloud plan that meets both your comfort levels and your business objectives.
